

A kitchen scene featuring a window with a dark frame and multiple panes. Two black metal pendant lights hang above the window. The countertop is made of a speckled material and holds a sink with a chrome faucet, a wooden cutting board with bread, a glass jar, and a small potted plant. The wall is covered in white subway tiles, and a metal rack holds a colander. A dark oven is visible on the left side of the frame.

Klik hier om het
woonmagazine te
bekijken